

As a member of the Illinois General Assembly for eighteen years, Senator John Maitland Jr. has been a strong advocate for the Laboratory Schools. It was Senator Maitland, in collaboration with Dr. Hubbard, who generated the political support in Springfield that ensured passage of the 1980 legislation that provided a stable source of funding for the Laboratory Schools thereby preserving the rich legacy of the Laboratory Schools at Illinois State University.